

NCR APTRA™ OptiNet

Want to empower your extended team with the ultimate tool to achieve cash optimization?

YES

Maximum insight of your cash position with ease

NCR APTRA OptiNet provides a web-based front end to APTRA OptiCash, offering full access to the OptiCash system for users not directly connected to the bank or ATM operator's network. APTRA OptiNet works in tandem with APTRA OptiCash to provide remote users with access to forecasting and historical data and tools for automated branch cash ordering. It is also capable of showing each branch their vault and ATM needs and represents all of this information in an easily understood graphic interface.

- Provide immediate control where it's needed

APTRA OptiNet enables branch or remote users to review, accept, or override daily cash order recommendations generated by APTRA OptiCash. Like APTRA OptiCash, APTRA OptiNet allows users to proactively generate emergency orders when demand becomes unexpectedly high at a particular cashpoint, avoiding an out-of-cash situation.

- Enable better decision making throughout the supply chain

APTRA OptiNet provides branch and cash managers with up to date support information, empowering them to make fully informed decisions when ordering and returning cash for every cashpoint they manage.

- Reduce costs by providing complete visibility for all stakeholders

The comprehensive support information generated by APTRA OptiCash includes historical data, forecasted currency demands, and scheduled deliveries for several subsequent days. This enables improved and faster responses to new circumstances and ultimately reduces the cost of maintaining optimum cash levels in the network.
